

The late Stewart Wright wrote what is considered as of this Maintained Set to be the definitive research article on The Adventures of Philip Marlowe. It was published in the January 2019 issue of Radiogram published by SPERDVAC one year before Wright's death. The piece is not currently known to be available online but it is worth tracking down a hard copy or continuing to look for it on the internet.