Friend Of Huey Long
Tried For Tax Evasion

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Chief Prosecutor Amos W. W. Woodcock, outlining charges of income tax evasion against Abe L. Shushan, told a jury Shushan received 2 cents for every cubic yard dredged for the New Orleans levee board by the Standard Dredging Company.

These funds, Woodcock declared, are the basis for the federal charge which went to trial before a jury of eleven white persons and one Negro yesterday.

Shushan, president of the levee board and close political associate of the late Huey P. Long, is specifically accused of failing to pay $53,929 income taxes for 1929-35.

Statistician Predicts Industry Will Never Absorb All Jobless

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Leader Lubin, commissioner of labor statistics, estimates to-day that between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 of America's jobless will never find work again in private industry, but said he had no fear of a "permanent army of unemployed."

The United States, he said, has always suffered from a "shocking shortage" of educational, recreational and health facilities. The work of creating and maintaining these facilities will eventually absorb the unemployed, he said, but he contended it would be done by the government and not by private industry.

Dole For 'Several Years'

Tablin's views were expressed in an interview in which he frankly conceded it would be several years before the great bulk of the jobless could find work.

He pictured the employment outlook in manufacturing industries as much brighter than some other lines. Less than 2,000,000 are still unemployed in those industries, he estimated, and they can be absorbed.

"It is silly to think that the nation's consuming capacity stops at the 1929 level," he said. "There is no reason why it can't go beyond that."

But the great bulk of the unemployed, Lubin explained, were formerly in the wholesale and retail trades, the railroads, telephone and telegraph, agriculture, professional services, construction and domestic service.

A Slow Process

Some of these, such as the million and a half jobless in the construction industry, he said, will be absorbed in domestic service, but it will be a slow process. He said that for this kind of work will return to normal only after others are back on the job.

Many jobless in agriculture or wholesale and retail trades have little prospect of re-employment, he said, and in addition there are more than 500,000 former business men who are now looking for work.

Walter Hampden, veteran stage star of two continents, will play the stellar role in the premiere of The Cavalcade of America, a weekly series of dramatic programs, the first of which will be heard at 5 o'clock this evening.

Hampden heads a cast of seasoned players who, in their first program, will present two little-known chapters in American history. The appearance marks one of Hampden's rare appearances before a microphone. The program will be sponsored by the E. I. DuPont Company.

Male Chorus Parade will present the Pomona College Glee Club at 8:35 o'clock tonight. The Pomona College group of thirty-two voices is the oldest of its kind on the Pacific Coast, being organized in 1892. H. Lyman has served as its director for eighteen years.

Presenting an aria from Bellini's opera, La Sonnambula, and other classic and popular numbers, Lily Pong will be the soloist of the third program by Andre Kostelanetz and his forty-five piece orchestra at 6 P. M.

Gracie Allen has something new up her sleeve in the line of a fantastic note which she will spring on a spellbound George Burns this evening.

Forrest Taylor will play the lead part in The Race Of The Lone Sailor on the Strange As It Seems program to-night.

Joining in the nation-wide observance of Fire Prevention Week, the producers of Calling All Cars will to-night offer a dramatization dealing with arsonists and their work of terror, entitled, Fire, Fire, Fire!

Convict Killed

FOLSOM PRISON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Red Ledford, whose real name was Albert Campbell, a 35-year-old Negro, serving a term of twenty-five years for assault to rob and attempt to murder in Sacramento, was accidentally killed in a fall here.

Under the name of Ledford he was an opponent of Max Baer during the former champion's early ring career.

From 1925 to 1929, Ledford appeared in main boxing events in several California cities.

CROP LIMITATION
MAY CEASE DUE TO WAR DEMAND

Administrator Believes Price Above Parity Would Warrant Move

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Chester C. Davis, the farm administrator, said to-day crop control programs will be suspended temporarily if war conditions abroad bring high prices sustained above parity.

The programs then would be continued for the remainder of the contract period, he said, when and if prices declined.

Praising the present adjustment machinery as a means of meeting increased demands as well as reducing production, Davis said it offered a means of "cushioning the shock of a sudden fall in prices which inevitably follows the close of a war."

Advantages Told

Speaking over the radio, Davis discussed the possible effect of the new wheat contracts in case world peace is shattered.

"In war and in peace," he said, "the wheat contract offers advantages to the co-operating farmer."

"In times past we have walked into our enormous troubles with the bitterest attitude that we would meet the problem when it came. The farm board was called upon to meet the wheat problem when the surplus was already unmanageable. Using the Agricultural Adjustment Administration Act, the farmers were compelled to resort to drastic methods to pull themselves out of the depths of despair."

War Damage Seen

"They have barely reached solid ground to-day when the possibility of another created agriculture cycle threatens. Can we as wheat farmers, so far-sighted enough to bind ourselves closer together in great numbers to enable us soberly to produce for the market now and intelligently to perfect the control machinery to ease the shock that must follow troublesome times?"

Recalling a speech before the institute of international relations at Grinnell, Iowa, last Summer, Davis noted he then had credited the world war with first creating an immense market for the American farmer and then taking away "not only that extraordinary output but much of his normal, pre-war outlet for exports besides. The agriculture of this country suffered far more from the devastating after effects of war than from the conflict itself."

Police Protect Gable

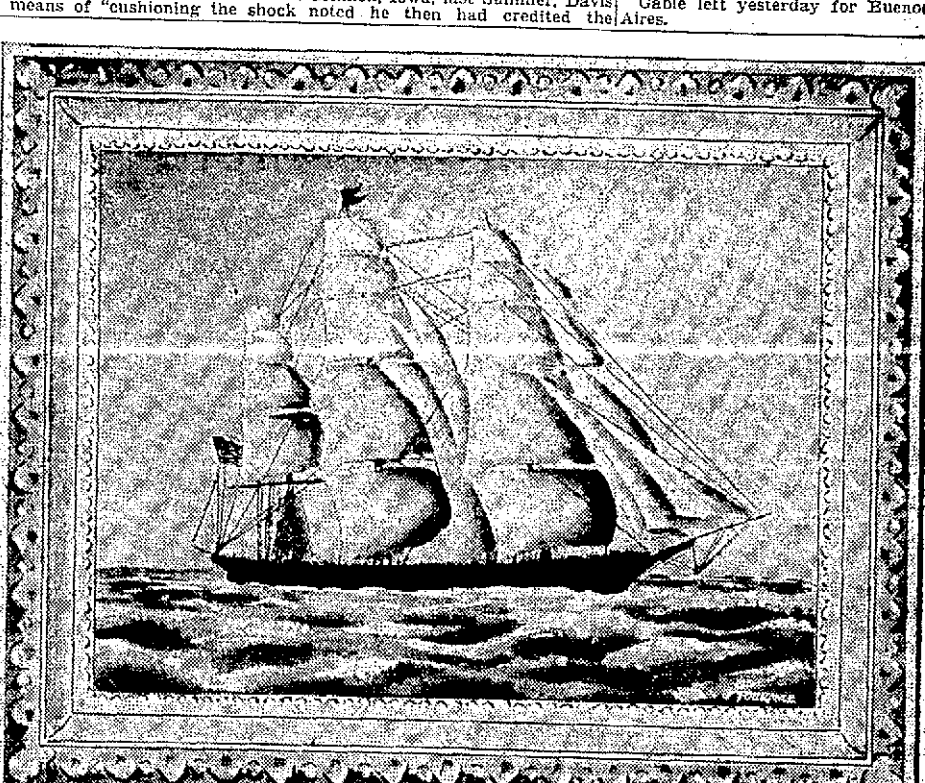

As Chile Girls Attack

SANTIAGO (Chile), Oct. 9.—(AP)—Clark Gable was in full flight to-day from the throng of feminine admirers who besieged his hotel room.

With the help of a strong police guard Gable escaped the women who sought to get within kissing distance of him, but not until a number of the besiegers had left parts of their lipstick on his cheeks.

Souvenir hunters who invaded his room snatched everything they could lay their hands on—including all his pajamas, much of his underwear and many of his neckties and handkerchiefs. There were 100 girls in the melee at one time.

Gable left yesterday for Buenos Aires.
