'Big Town,' on Air for Years, Filmed for TV

By TOM E. DANSON

HOLLYWOOD. I spent all afternoon on the set at General Service Studios where the "Big Town" television series is being filmed for its west coast debut April 3. The show is directly patterned after the radio version, featuring the newspaper crusading of Editor Steve Wilson of the mythical Illustrated Press, and his newspaperwoman reporter, Lorelei.

The series is being produced by Phil Krasne and Jack Gross, a couple of executive producers from RKO motion picture field who are getting their feet wet in television. In this, their first venture, from the amount of time spent on just one scene, the entire shooting was reminiscent of movie production and not television.

The set of the newspaper office must be strictly imaginative, for here I saw carpeted floors in the city room, desks (wainut) with small stacks of neatly arranged papers, and of all things, a serious shortage of news copy files (wastebaskets).

Pat McVey, plays the lead, and very well, too. He has just completed 77 weeks with this very show on a "live" basis in the New York area for CBS-TV, but his girl reporter Lorelei, played by Jane Nigh, seems miscast.

Here we find a blonde beauty, immaculately groomed with not a hair out of place, highly polished fingernails, high heels and very sheer nylons, coupled with a frilly afternoon tea dress, sitting in this room (without a scrap of paper on the floor), punching out a hard-boiled murder story. It just doesn't make sense, and lacks completely, the authenticity surrounding any newspaper office.

DOWN TV-RADIO ROW... One of their night club numbers will be used by the Sportsman Quartet when they appear with Jack Benny's TV set, March 7. MGM and NBC are bidding on a contemplated taped air series for Joan Crawford. Conductor Al Woodbury, for the third straight year, has been signed to arrange the music for the annual Academy Award banquet, for March 20. Edward R. Murrow's CBS-TV "See It Now," will become the first regularly scheduled foreign program carried by the French national network, starting next month.

Gracie's Honeymoon Won't Affect Show

NEW YORK. (AP) Gracie Fields' marriage to Boris Alperovitch on the Isle of Capri won't affect her Friday night variety half-hour on CBS radio. It is going right along because Gracie, by the use of advance recordings, got so far ahead she has at least a dozen
