Old Novelty Tunes Revived by Freddy Martin's Band

By TOM E. DANSON

NEW YORK. I dropped in to see one of California's favori' band leaders, who has been wowing the dancing set here for some time. Freddy Martin is who I'm talking about, and he's currently appearing at the Roosevelt Grill.

Freddy has a couple of old novelty tunes which he is reviving with considerable success . . . "Oh, What a Lovely Bunch of Coconuts" and "Never Been Kissed." Now he has come up with another fanciful ditty, "If You Don't Hug 'er By 9 O'Clock (You Ain't Gonna Love 'Er At All)," which is going over well.

Still in the musical vein for this column, I learned that Lilliebell Lombardo (Guy's wife) took a flyer at song writing, collaborating with New York's female Irving Berlin, Mabel Wayne. The song, "Someone to Kiss Your Tears Away," was written as a result of a recent conversation they had with a mutual friend.

They were commiserating with her about a sad experience she had recently when Lilliebell remarked, "You need someone to kiss your tears away." Mabel Wayne shot back, "That's a good song title!" and a few days later the song was written, with Lilliebell owning 33 per cent of it.

DOWN TV-RADIO ROW . . . Talking about his mythical character, Betty Lou Riggs, Tommy Riggs says she spent her childhood in the locker rooms at Brown and Ohio State Universities which he attended. (Tommy has been on radio for many years).

Agreement Prevents Capitol Picketing

WASHINGTON, April 30. (AP) A contractor and an AFL union local have reached an agreement ending the threat of aerial picketing of the Capitol.

The dispute involved the hiring by Contractor L. R. Brown, Roanoke, Va., of nonunion painters to work on the Capitol dome.

It is illegal to picket on federal grounds. But union officials said they considered using airplanes to circle the Capitol.

Top Movie Stars Filmed for Mother's Day Show

By KING CHARLES

Loretta Young, Ethel Barrymore, Ruth Hussey and Gene Lockhart have leading roles in "The Greatest Mother," special half-hour television program filmed by Jerry Fairbanks Productions for Family Theater presentation on Mother's Day, May 11.

Arrangements for the appearances of the well-known stars were completed by Father Patrick Peyton, CSC, founder of Family Theater.

The special picture will mark Miss Young's video debut and she will appear in modern day sequences of the show depicting high lights in the life of the Blessed Mother. Miss Barrymore, reading from the Scriptures, will set the scenes for the Biblical sequences of the program.

Miss Hussey, who has appeared in all Family Theater TV presentations, again will portray Mary, Mother of Jesus. The role will be Miss Hussey's fourth as the Blessed Mother, the actress having portrayed Mary in such previous holiday productions as "That I May See," "Hill Number One" and "The Joyful Hour." Lockhart will appear in the modern day sequences.

A Family Theater presentation, the show will be offered to all stations without charge for sustaining telecasts on Mother's Day. It will be the fifth Biblical holiday program to be presented by the group and filmed by Fairbanks Productions.
