Injury Undetermined for Hit Band Member

The University of Wisconsin marching band member whose eye was injured with a thrown stone at the Wisconsin-Michigan football game, Oct. 21, still doesn't know whether he will lose the sight in his right eye permanently.

Ben Graves, 21, Shawano, has been under the care of doctors at Wisconsin General hospital since he returned from the game at Ann Arbor, Mich. They say the decision on his sight may take a full six months to determine.

Meanwhile, Graves is wearing dark glasses and a patch over the eye, while he does nothing that would excite the injury. He has retired from the marching band, Prof. Ray Dvorak, director, said Tuesday.

TIP O' THE MORNING: Wisconsin visitors to Chicago night clubs will find two familiar names on the billing — Banjo King Eddie Peabody at the Bismarck hotel's Swiss Chalet and Pianist Walter Liberace at the Palmer house's Empire room.

Color woodcuts by Antonio Frasconi, Uruguayan artist, and drawings, lithographs, and etchings by Frank Moulton, Madison, are being shown here this month.

The Frasconi exhibition is at the Madison Free library, where it will be on public view from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. daily except Sunday through Nov. 18.

Moulton's works are at the University club, and will be up through Nov. 30. Among them are pencil drawings made in Chile; ink drawings done for "Through the Windshield"—book published by Moulton and Harold E. McClelland of The State Journal; lithographs of Peru and Chile, and etchings of Chile.

Outstanding in the Frasconi show are two large woodcuts printed on cloth.

The Madison Art assn., sponsor of the show, says:

"Antonio Frasconi was born of Italian parents in Montevideo, Uruguay, in 1919 and received his education there. He held his first one-man show in that city at the age of 20, and his works were included in annual exhibitions at the Salon Municipal and the Salon Nacional de Bellas Artes there. He came to the United States in 1945 to work at the Art Students league and later was given a scholarship to study at the New school.

"In 1946 Frasconi held his first one-man show in the United States at the Brooklyn museum and since then he has given many exhibitions, including the Santa Barbara museum, the Pasadena Art institute, the New School for Social Research, the Philadelphia Art alliance, and the Pan American Union in Washington, D. C.

"He is represented in the permanent collections of the Museo Municipal in Montevideo, the Museum of Modern Art, the Brooklyn Museum, Princeton university, the Fogg museum, the University of Michigan and the New York Public library, the Santa Barbara museum, and the Rhode Island School of Design.

"Frasconi is considered a master technician in the field of woodcuts and he has invented many interesting variations of the medium."

MISCELLANY: Movie actor Stewart Granger changed his name for obvious reasons . . . His real one is James Stewart.

Mary Rogers chose Spencer Tracy to play her dad in the film story of Will Rigers' life.

The Badger Outdoor theater will end its 1950 season Sunday, Nov. 12, with "Louisa."

Henry Russell will go to Chicago to conduct Dorothy Lamour's music at the "Harvest Moon Festival."

Stan Kenton has postponed his concert tour until September, 1951, because of the success of dance engagements with his 20-piece orchestra.

Top-grossing pictures last month, according to Motion Picture Herald, were "Copper Canyon," "Mister 880," "No Way Out," "The Sleeping City," "The Iani."

Toast of New Orleans," and "To Please a Lady."

+ + +

TOP TUNES: Currently, Madison's favorite tunes, as shown by requests to hostesses at automatic phonograph headquarters, are:

ONE. "All My Love" (third on Billboard list).

TWO. "Harbor Lights" first in Billboard).

THREE. "Dream a Little Dream of Me" (not on Billboard list).

FOUR. "Nevertheless" (fifth in Billboard).

FIVE. "I'll Never Be Free" (not on Billboard list).

SIX. "A Bushel and a Peck" (ditto).

SEVEN. (ditto).

EIGHT. "Oh! Babe" (say it again).

NINE. "Goodnight, Irene" (second in Billboard).

TEN. "Bonaparte's Retreat" (same on both lists).

Songs in the Billboard's ratings which are not on the Madison list are 'Mona Lisa," fourth; "A Simple Melody," sixth; "Can Anyone Explain?," seventh; "Thinking of You," eighth, and "La Vie en Rose," ninth.

+ + +

DISCS OF THE DAY: "Hawaiian Festival," an album recorded by Lani McIntire's orchestra (Columbia) . . . Some of the top hits of Hawaiian-style music, played by the top purveyor of the type. Unusually fine recording. Numbers include "Hawaiian War Chant," "Song of the Islands," "To You, Sweetheart, Aloha," "Sweet Lei-lani."
