Blackwood on Bridge

(By Easley R. Blackwood)
Here is a bidding situation which Mr. Muzzy consistently fails to understand.
He doubles for a takeout and his partner responds.
Now, no matter what happens later, no matter how many times the opponents bid and his partner passes, Mr. Muzzy finds it impossible to accept the fact his partner may have an absolute bust hand.
He makes no allowance for the fact that his partner was FORCED to bid by the double.
Actually when you respond to your partner's double you are not making a "bid" in the sense that you have freely decided your hand warrants an attempt to buy the contract for your side. You are merely obeying your partner's command to show your best suit.
East dealer.
Both sides vulnerable:
North (Mr. Champion)
♠ 10 6 4 3 2
♥ 8 4
♦ 8 4 2
♣ A 5 3
West (Mr. Abel) East (Miss Brash)
♠ 9 7 ♠ K J
♥ Q 10 6 ♥ A K J 9 7 3
♦ Q 10 5 ♦ K J 9 3
♣ K 8 6 4 2 ♣ J 10 9 7
South (Mr. Muzzy)
♠ A Q 3 5
♥ 5 2
♦ A 7 6
♣ J 10 9 7
The bidding:
East South West North
1 H Dbl. Pass 1 S
Dbl. Pass 2 H Pass
3 H Pass 4 H All Pass
If, unfortunately, your best suit is headed by a nine spot, that is no fault of yours. You have to do the best you can with what was dealt to you.
One angle of this situation cropped up in today's hand.
Miss Brash opened the bidding with one heart and Mr. Muzzy doubled (on little enough, incidentally).
Mr. Abel saw no reason to take any action at this point. Mr. Champion dutifully and properly bid one spade.
From here on the opponents battered their way into a four heart contract—with Mr. Muzzy on the lead.
No doubt you have already guessed what he led.
You're right — the ace of spades.
Why not? His partner had "bid" spades. To Mr. Muzzy, it looked like the best lead one could ask for. But when the ace of spades hit

Eleanora Scannell
Heads Production
Eleanora Scannell has been named director of the Madison Blackfriars Theater Guild Lenten production of "The City of Kings." It was announced late Tuesday.
Tryouts for the play, which is to be presented Feb. 17-18, will be held at 7 p.m. today in the Madison Community Center, Room 7, and at 7 p.m. Friday at the Catholic War Veterans' hall, 24 N. Carroll st.
The Edgewood Band assn. is sponsoring the presentation of the play.
The Rev. Urban Nagle, author, has written the play about the life of Blessed Martin, a negro Dominican priest, who served in Lima, Peru, when the city was known as the City of Kings.
Members of the cast will include 14 men, four women and four children. All persons interested in joining the Catholic drama group are asked to attend the tryouts.
