State Department Assigns City Man to Post in Iran

(State Journal Washington Bureau)

WASHINGTON—Robin E. Steussy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin E. Steussy, 3847 Nakoma rd., has been transferred from the state department in Washington to Meshed, capital of Khurasan province, Iran, where he will be principal officer.

STEUSSY

Stuessy, who received a bachelor's degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1943, served three years in the army and formerly served as vice-consul in Antwerp, Belgium, and at the Budapest, Hungary, legation.

In 1949 he figured in worldwide news when Hungary asked that he be recalled by the state department from the legation at Budapest, charging that he had used diplomatic privilege to help Hungarians flee the country.

College Girls Find More Jobs Open

BOSTON—(UP)—The doors of opportunity have swung open for college girls.

A survey of New England colleges revealed that employers' requests for women graduates have more than doubled since the start of the Korean war.

Science majors are in particular demand. There are, however, plenty of openings for women in almost every other field.

A girl's personality and appearance still counts more than her IQ, college placement directors agreed.

"There are times I feel men just don't want women who think," one director observed.

TIP O' THE MORNING: Tiny Hill and his orchestra will be at the Capitol theater Wednesday, Apr. 24.

* * *

Four choruses, a Madison pianist, and the Madison Civic Symphony orchestra will close the 25th anniversary season of the Madison Civic Music assn. with a jubilee concert at 8:15 tonight in the Masonic auditorium.

Admission will be free.

The singing organizations to appear are the Madison Civic chorus, the Mozart club, the Maennerchor, and the Grieg Male chorus. Gerald Borsuk, pianist, will be soloist, playing Gershwin's "Concerto in F." Walter Heermann will conduct.

The Grieg chorus will be heard in a song which it helped introduce. It is Alexius Baas' "Recessional," first sung at a Norwegian singers' festival by a massed chorus of which the Madison men were a part. Tonight, it will be conducted by the composer. In it, the Grieg chorus, the Mozart club, and the men of the Civic chorus will join the Maennerchor, of which Baas is director.
