Biggest Ice Cube Manufactured at Field House

Madison's biggest ice cube came into being Tuesday at the University of Wisconsin field house.

It took three tons of sawdust, 2,000 pounds of calcium chloride, 7 yards of fine sand, 150 pounds of carbon dioxide (dry ice, to you), and hundreds of gallons of water, plus the services of an expert crew of workmen, to turn the trick.

It's all intended for the "Ice Vagues of 1951," first ice show ever to be shown in Madison. An expanse of 50 by 90 feet (almost the same size as the basketball floor) has been covered with ice upon which the stars will perform nightly from Friday, Apr. 20, through Tuesday, Apr. 24.

Workmen for the ice show began preparations on the fieldhouse floor Tuesday so the ice would be in the proper condition for the "Vagues."

The production uses three portable ice machines. The freezing coils are laid on the fieldhouse floor, then are covered with sawdust which serves as insulation. A two-inch ridge of sand is built up around the edge of the floor to hold in the water.

Then the freezing unit is turned on and the sand is frozen. A brine of calcium chloride is the freezing agent pumped into the coils by compressors. This brine is constantly circulated through the coils, passing first through a cooling tank. Then water is sprayed on the area, the ice building up to one and one-half inches or even two inches in thickness. The temperature is kept at 10 or 12 degrees for the original freezing and later at a constant 18 to 20 degrees.

4 Arraigned in Racine on Gambling Charges

RACINE.—(UP)—Four men were arraigned Tuesday afternoon on gambling charges after a raid here by county officials and state beverage tax agents, and an arrest at Kenosha.

Francis H. Wendt, Racine, court commissioner, set preliminary hearing for Apr. 21 and released them on $500 bond each.

James E. O'Mara, arrested in Kenosha, Monday, was arraigned on a bookie charge. John Keleske, owner of Keleske's tavern, and his bartender, Marjorie Kjeldsen, face similar charges; and Ernest E. Papara, was charged with selling Irish sweepstakes tickets.

TIP O' THE MORNING: Two adventure shows—Wayne Morris in "Dick Davis" and Hy Averbach in "This Is O'Shea"—may be on NBC as summer replacements.

Gene F. Seehaffer, former Madison resident, a 1943 graduate of the University of Wisconsin, and a former WHA and Wisconsin network figure, is co-author of the first book on television as an advertising medium. Seehaffer now is assistant professor of advertising at the University of Minnesota. His collaborator on "Successful Radio and Television Advertising" is Jack W. Laemmer, account executive with the J. Walter Thompson Co., Chicago.

Frank Davidson, instructor in drama and speech at the College of the City of New York, has been chosen director of the Belfray Players' 18th season. The theater is near Williams Bay. Davidson is a graduate of the University of Kentucky and holds a master degree at Yale, where he studied in the famous "47 Workshop." He has produced army training films and radio shows, and directed summer theaters in New England.

David Morris, Aurora, Ill., will be the Belfray group's new technical assistant. He is a senior in Aurora college, and has been stage manager and assistant technician of the Chase Barn Players at Whitefield, N. H.

Prof. Raymond F. Dvorak, director of bands at the University of Wisconsin, will conduct the band of Blatz American Legion post, Milwaukee, in "Meenomonie Suite" during a concert Sunday afternoon in the Milwaukee Auditorium. The concert will be a part of the convention of the Wisconsin Bandmasters' assn., of which Dvorak is president. The convention will open Friday.

Lieut. Comdr. W. T. Holmes of the U. S. navy music school will be the convention's guest of honor. After 30 years of acting, Wisconsin's Spencer Tracy and Pat O'Brien finally get together in a film—"The People Against O'Hara"—and already they're plotting another. They would like to film Gene Fowler's "Timberline."

Incidentally, this comes from Hollywood:

"Since the start of 'O'Hara' the set has been crowded with correspondents who want to write news on the two, their lifelong friendship, year in the navy to gether, struggles on Broadway, and final teaming in pictures. They've both been wonderful and have dug up excellent anecdotes. Then, yesterday, Pat came in with a bundle, went to his dressing room, shut the door, and after a few minutes, called Tracy to his room.

"What's that?" asked Tracy, pointing to a framed piece of cloth on the wall.

"That," solemnly answered Pat,

"is the shirt we're supposed to have shared!"

Marjorie Main was on a set where a young actress was throwing her weight around. Finally, Marjorie, in the raspy voice of her, turned to the director and observed:

"Whenever I see a youngster who is completely carried away with herself, I'm reminded of the fly riding on a wagon wheel who looked backward to remark:

"My, my, look at the dust I'm kicking up!"

FILM FARE: Edith Gwynn, State Journal-Hollywood correspondent, reports from the movie capital that the movie

No matter how rampant the rumors about a domestic dirge at the Clark Gables, we refuse to believe there's anything resembling a definite rift between them. We item this in the face of whatever "solid story" may currently be printed. Maybe they've had a tiff or two—maybe not. Clark has been in Phoenix, Ariz. (just as he was for weeks about three years ago) to bake out that leg which gives him so much pain from time to time. He suffered a far more serious injury during a bombing raid over Germany in World War II than was ever publicized. He's not the type to talk about it. Sylvia has been ill, too.

Van Heflin, who once said that free-lancing was the life for him, is about to sign a long contract at Universal.

With all the recent political furor, the fact that Greer Garson acquired her American citizenship a few days ago became a buried, unnoticed note.

Shirley Temple's mate, Charles Black, has left the TV exec job he's had here. He's preparing for imminent re-call into active service in the East. Shirley goes along. That's why her mansion has been sold—and the guest cottage or "playhouse," which she has long since converted into a small home, is on the sales block at the moment.

Cesar Romero starts in "Lost Continent," another of those pseudo-scientific films that make up the latest cinema cycle.

Composer Dimitri Tiomkin (who recently musicked "Strangers on a Train") has been seriously ill with pneumonia. Doing O. K. now.

Marvin Miller, the busy radio actor, is making quite a movie business of playing Orientals. His next assignment will be in "Rage of the Vulture" at Paramount.

Larry Ceballos, who did the dances for "Valentino," has been signed by Matty Way. Kemp will use an all-star cast of Latin-American entertainers and shoot the film in seven countries.

Evidently the British feel there is a fine point of "before and after" involved in the ban of movies by Ben Hecht in England. Having been assured that "Whirlpool" and "Sidewalk" were produced "before" Hecht made his anti-British statements, the two pictures may now go into release. "Love Happy," however, can not be shown because it was filmed "after."

Indications are that Lana Turner and Bob Topping have abandoned their projected plans to form an independent company, and Lana will stay on at Metro for another seven-year contract.

Bruce Bennett, who in his days as Herman Brix was an Olympic shot-put champion, generally is cast as suave men of the world, wronged husbands, or "mashers" with designs on other fellows' wives. In "Angel and the Pirates," MGM's baseball saga, Bennett will display his athletic prowess for the first time in years. He'll have the part of a pitcher.

3 State Appointees Confirmed by Senate

The state senate unanimously confirmed Tuesday three appointees to the state veterans affairs and tax appeals boards.

William E. Thurston, Durand, was reappointed to a six-year term on the board of tax appeals.

Paul B. Clemens, Milwaukee, was reappointed to the veterans affairs board and Adj. Gen. Ralph Olson was named a new member of the board.
