NO TALENT

FT. WORTH, Tex. —(U.P.)— The Truman Sign Co. here has a panel truck with the words under the firm's name: "My Margaret can't sing."

TIP O' THE MORNING: Tonight will be your last chance to hear the Madison Civia Symphony orchestra this season. Its final concert starts at 8:15 in the Masonic auditorium.

* * *

A NEW form of interference probably will appear Thursday on television receivers. It will be caused by amateur radio operators—through no fault of their own.

"Hams" on that day will begin using the new 21-megacycle frequency granted them by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), reports the American Radio Relay League (ARRL).

"There isn't much of anything amateurs can do about it," ARRL says, "since the primary cause will be pickup of their radio signals by some internal circuits of the receiver which have been tuned to the new amateur frequency.

"This internal-receiver frequency was chosen by the television industry in 1945 over the protests of ARRL. Manufacturers eventually found it unsuitable and many of them have recently changed their standard to a channel less susceptible to interference, but millions of sets were produced with the 21-megacycle circuit.

"According to tests conducted by the engineering staff of the league in 1948, such receivers may experience severe interference from amateur stations in the neighborhood, even though transmitters are operating fully in compliance with FCC regulations. The 1948 tests, performed with a special experimental license provided by FCC, showed that the only remedy was a realignment of the internal circuitry of the receiver, a modification which fortunately can be performed by any competent service-technician.

"ARRL General Manager A. L. Budlong has called upon all manufacturers of television receivers to see to it that suitable remedies are made or authorized in cases where 21-megacycle operation by an amateur station causes interference to a receiver using the old industry standard on that channel. He said that several companies have already set a policy of modifying the receiver to provide satisfactory television reception in such cases."

COMEDY: East Senior high school will present its spring play, "The Little Dog Laughed," at 8 p. m. Friday in the East auditorium. It's a three-act comedy about a college sophomore who subjects her family to psychological tests.

Mavis Freidig will portray the co-ed, with Roderick Hesse, Barbara Bruley, and Lowell Peterson as others in the family.

The cast also will include Diane Horalek, Shirley Roth, John Foss, Barbara Shafer, Gilbert Splett, Peter Barrett, Shirley Campbell, Annette Landsness, Judy Ellis, Joan Kantz, Sylvia Suehtjen, Howard Field, Alice Ghering, Herbert Krogman, and Terry Woollen.

* * *

Tony Russo stars on the vocal of "You," adapted from "Musetta's Waltz," on a Sammy Kaye disc. The orchestra accents strings on this one. A smooth reading of "Oh, How I Miss You Tonight," with vocals by the Kaydets," is on the other side. (Columbia).

* * *

AT BELOIT: When Vaughn Monroe broadcasts his show from Beloit on Saturday, May 10, guest vocalist will be Roberta Lee, who made such a hit on first appearance with the band that she'll be back for two more—the Beloit date and a program from the Detroit Coliseum on May 3. You've also heard her with Raymond Scott and Les Brown.

* * *

FROM FILMLAND: Edith Gwynn, State Journal Hollywood correspondent, writes. . .

Lela Lane, one-time movie star and widow of director Roland West, will wind up with over $2,000,000 (after taxes) when the estate is settled.

Jack Benny does his final radio and TV shows June 1 — then heads for London with Dennis Day for a Palladium whirl. Barbara Stanwyck tells us she may do an occasional guest spot with Benny come fall — but as for becoming a regular on his shows, the answer is "No!" Mary Livingstone may appear less than usual with Jack — but as for retiring altogether, we'd betcha she won't.

Steve Cochran and Virginia Mayo do funny imitations of Sam Goldwyn — but Edward Arnold's is the drollest we've seen — or heard.

Buddy Bear, who wrestles with that bull in "Quo Vadis", has opened at N. Y.'s Paramount theater — as a CROONER!

* * *

"KILROY WAS HERE," produced by Sid Luft few years back (starring Jackie Cooper) is making the TV rounds. It wasn't a world-beater — but it made a lot of money. Luft will also produce Judy Garland's music-film of "A Star is Born".

Claire Trevor not only has a new movie contract at Metro, but will do a radio series called "Petticoat President."

Start a savings account for your youngster during Baby Week starting April 28.

"Boy, did I have money problems!"

"That is, I thought I did, 'til Pop told me the other night that he'd started a savings account for me at the Bank of Madison. Gosh, I was thinking of all the occasions in my yet-to-live life that would require a lot of money—college, travel, marriage, home. I know these days that you just can't scrape up big dough in a hurry. That's why I was so relieved to know that my folks had started an account for me. Now they can make small regular deposits . . . that don't hurt their cash balance . . . the ol' interest is compounded semi-annually . . . and I'm going to have a nice nest egg when the time comes. Hope your folks will do the same . . . open a savings account at . . .
