TIP O' THE MORNING: "Your Hit Parade" will be off the air for eight weeks starting June 26.

JOHN WARREN, Madison artist who lives at 134 E. Gorham st., has delivered five water colors to the Ford Times, published by the Ford Motor Co., and is working on four more for the same company's Lincoln-Mercury Times. The first five were painted to illustrate an article on the paper industry written by Robert Benson, former Madison man who now lives near Wisconsin Rapids. The second group will illustrate an article on "dream cabins" in areas of solitude. Both will appear in early autumn.

Judges of the next Gimbels art competition, "Wisconsin Artists' View of 1952," will be Perry Townsend Rathbone, director of the City Art museum of St. Louis; Munroe Wheeler, director of exhibitions and publications for the Museum of Modern Art, New York, and Stuart Davis, noted painter.

TODAY'S LAUGH: Vaughn Monroe tells about the movie star who tried to get a table at a swank night spot but found them all occupied and was told he'd have to wait. His companion urged, "Tell them who you are." The star replied: "If I have to tell them who I am, then I ain't."

OYSTERS: A American oysters are good in the month of May—in fact are at their best at that time and are good in every month. "R" or no "R," Dr. Thurlow C. Nelson, Rutgers University oyster scientist, told Watson Davis in an interview on CBS Radio's "Adventures in Science" Saturday. Those cautions about oysters not being good in months without an "R" were brought to this country by colonists who did not know the difference between American and European oysters. Dr. Nelson explained. The European oyster gets full of sand in the summer months, but the American oyster "keeps its mouth shut," and is edible the year round.

'STARS IN KHAKI 'N' BLUE': The radio show devoted to the presentation of talented members of the armed forces, "Stars in Khaki 'n' Blue," is anxious to reach serv-

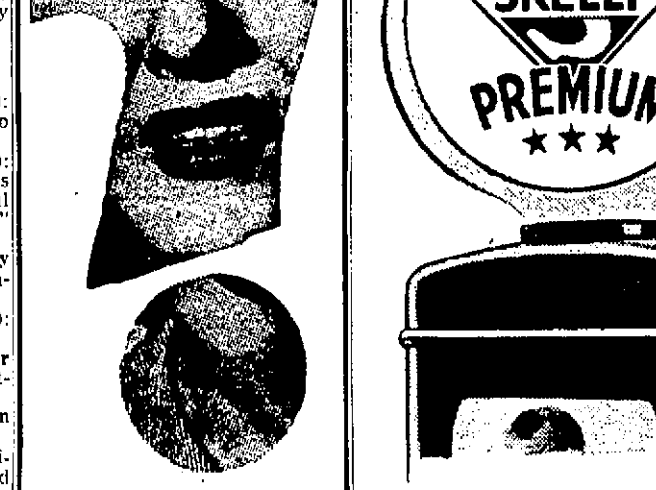

No Law Against Thinking, Judge Rules
There's no law against thinking. Superior Judge Roy H. Proctor declared Tuesday in dismissing four University of Wisconsin students while contemplating taking a parking lot sign in the 100 block on S. Webster st.

The students, John R. Bohrod, 19, Richard W. Stumbo Jr., 18, David B. Phillips, 19, and Roger J. Jahniak, 26, all of 1711 Van Hise ave., were arrested by Police Officer William Watry when he saw them around a sign reading "the tow truck will get you" in a parking lot adjacent to the Hoffman Chemical and Supply Co., 109 S. Webster st.

The youths admitted at police headquarters that they were thinking about stealing the sign and they were charged with disorderly conduct.

Judge Proctor dismissed the charges.
