

TIP OF THE MORNING: Tom Moore's "Ladies Fair" will broadcast July 3 and 4 from Fond du Lac.

SEVEN Wisconsin residents are in the cast of "The Silver Whistle," with which the Belfry Players will open their 19th season Thursday night. The company produces its shows in the Belfry Playhouse at Williams Bay.

The Badgers are Glenn Grimes and Stanley Johnson, Williams Bay; Ruth Jensen, Peg Norton, and Edgar and Myrtle Stowell, Fontana, and Edward J. Hadley, Edgerton. The Stowells are former vaudeville troupers.

Performances will be at 8:20 p. m. Thursday through Monday.

TODAY'S LAUGH: A contestant on "Walk a Mile" told W in Elliot that his wife does a lot of travelling in Europe. "I suppose that travel broadens her mind," Elliot said. "No," said the contestant, "it just lengthens her conversation."

POSTSCRIPT: Last Friday, The State Journal published an essay by Samuel Steinman of New York City, a 1932 alumnus of the University of Wisconsin, telling why this would be his last campus reunion year.

In Monday's mail was this note from Sam: "My worst fears about aging in the eyes of the present U. W. generation came true at the president's reception."

"After going through the line, I was introduced to one of the seniors, who politely spoke up:

"How do you do, sir? Do you have a son or daughter graduating this year?"

"Said Steinman: 'That's ALL, brother.'"

Q. AND A. DEPT.: At the end of the "Music With the Girls" show at the Capitol theater, the mistress of ceremonies announced that the girls would go to the lobby, where they would answer questions about the products they advertise.

Manager Fred Reeth of the theater reports that a man said to one of the girls:

"Do you answer questions?"

She said:

"That's right. What would you like to know?"

He said:

"Have you got a date for tonight?"

the premiere of the work this spring in Basle, Switzerland. On Aug. 23 he will play it again at the Edinburgh festival with the Royal Philharmonic orchestra.

Louis Krasner will introduce the Schoenberg concerto on a later broadcast. A friend of the late composer, who died last July, Krasner is professor of violin and chamber music at the Syracuse University College of Music. The Schoenberg concerto was completed in Hollywood in September, 1936, and received its premiere, with Krasner as soloist, with the Philadelphia orchestra in 1940.

The opening broadcast of the season, on Sunday, Oct. 19, will present excerpts from "Boris Godunov" in concert form, with George London, American bass-baritone of the Metropolitan Opera, singing the title role.

SCREENING: A private, invitation showing of "Ivanhoe" for the theater trade will be held at 10 a. m. Tuesday, July 8, in the Madison theater. Stars are Robert Taylor, Elizabeth Taylor, George Sanders, and Emily Williams.

RADIO PREMIERES: — In contrast and balance with the standard concertos of Beethoven, Brahms, Mendelssohn, and Mozart on next season's New York Philharmonic-Symphony broadcasts, Musical Director Dimitri Mitropoulos will present the American radio premieres of violin concertos by Frank Martin and Arnold Schoenberg.

Martin's concerto will be played on a Sunday broadcast in November by Josef Szigell, who played it with the Philadelphia orchestra in 1940.
