JOHN CROSBY'S COLUMN

Bluebloods of Dogdom Are Telegenic Actors

By JOHN CROSBY

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—No doubt about it. The Westminster Kennel Club show is the best television show of them all, not barring even the Zoo Parade. This sweeping claim is not made lightly. It is the custom here whenever possible to avoid review of any TV program until it has been witnessed three times. It was rather difficult to stick to this rule in regards the Westminster Kennel Club show because it comes only once a year.

This meant three years of silence, a long time to think things over. Of course, there are them as says it wasn't long enough, that my reviews would be infinitely improved if I thought things over indefinitely, preferably forever. To get back to the dog show, it proves once more that animals are the most telegenic of all actors and infinitely the best behaved. Among the swarms of cairns, basset hounds, Norwegian elkhounds, Welsh corgis, Irish setters and Alaskan malemutes, there was not a single case of upstaging; no pooch tried to swipe the camera from any other; no bark trod on another's laugh line.

POODLE FANCIER

Each dog was a study in politeness that ought to be required study for all comedians. At the microphone as usual this year—and, as always, conspicuously invisible—was Mrs. Sherman R. Hoyt, one of dogdom's great ladies (she was named canine woman of the year, as dubious a title as ever I heard), the most unabashed dog enthusiast in the Western Hemisphere, conceivably the world's leading authority on poodles, and the possessor of one of the most impeccable accents anywhere on TV.

Mrs. Hoyt's pronunciation of "dog" alone is worth the price of admission. It defies phonetics, that pronunciation. It isn't dog, or dawg or daug; it is more dog with a long o—an incredibly elegant sound. Mrs Hoyt's untempered enthusiasm for the canine world is reflected in her bubbling prose. "I find them (a brace of poodles) enchanting. They're quite beguiling."

Of a four-dog team of short-legged little beasts, she exclaimed: "There they go, twinkling down the line." "Twinkling" was the perfectly descriptive word for the sparkling gait of the little dogs. Her unsparing adjectives fall like gentle rain all over Madison Square Garden. "Appealing," beguiling," "gallant," "beautifully mannered," delightful" — that is some of the more restrained language employed by Mrs. Hoyt who has never been known to say anything derogatory about a dog.

"Look at that dog pose! Isn't he wonderful!" The exclamation points in her delivery ring like silver bells. "He's a neighbor of mine. He's the pet of two small children. He's a champion but he's a housedog. Sleeps on the sofa. Everyone loves him up in Greenwich." She was talking at the time of Storm, a Doberman Pinscher, which went on to win the best in show award, top honor in the dog kingdom. I'm happy that one of Mrs. Hoyt's neighbors won the big prize and even happier that the championship should go to a housedog who sleeps on the sofa and doesn't go putting on airs.

Storm—Mrs. Hoyt knows him well enough to call him Stormy—refutes the canard that show dogs are stuck-up little monsters. (Declared one Broadway character: "These show dogs—they're inhuman.") In addition to her charm and enthusiasm, Mrs. Hoyt seems to know everything there is to know about dogs of all breeds, seems personally acquainted with every dog in the show and knows an awful lot about their handlers, owners and kennels. Practically no sporting event is so thoroughly and accurately covered as the dog show. Unhappily, for a whole year now, we have nothing to look forward to except humans—people like Milton Berle.

MIMIC LINCOLN

Speaking of whom.

Every year we undergo what I call the Lincoln gimmick. Lincoln's birthday rolls around again; a lot of entertainers get to wondering what they'll do to celebrate it; the results are almost all surprising and frequently hair-raising. Last year, for example, Judith Anderson, who is hardly the right sex for it, declaimed the Gettysburg Address. This year Milton Berle ran through Mr. Lincoln's famous speech with an air of confidence Lincoln would have had difficulty matching. Next year—who knows? Lucille Ball will probably take it on.

Among other Lincoln gimmicks this year was the Cameo Theater's presentation of "The Man Who Played Lincoln," in which it was revealed in the last few minutes that an actor playing the part of Lincoln was a Negro. Strangest and least palatable gimmick of all was "Solo Drama," a strange little show in which one actor plays all the voices and is the only person visible on the screen. He played only a remote approximation of Lincoln, debating Stephen Douglas, running for and winning the election, finally departing for the White House. All this in fifteen minutes. Just before he left for the White House, still dressed as Lincoln, he delivered a commercial for and demonstrated a cigarette lighter.

Tree Planting Program for Oakland Parks

Oakland's Park Department is making plans to enlist the aid of local residents in the city's tree-planting program for the beautification of Oakland's parks and schools during this year's Conservation Week.

Beginning on Luther Burbank's birthday anniversary, March 7—Arbor Day—and continuing on through March 14, Conservation Week is designed to make Californians more conscious of the need for conserving the state's resources.

Working with the Oakland School Department, Superintendent of Parks William Penn Mott Jr. has begun plans for the coming observance which will enable the public to participate actively.

According to Mott, anyone may donate a tree to be planted in any Oakland park or school ground. The Park Department will help select the tree, designate a proper location, help with the heavy work, and thereafter maintain all trees planted.

If the plan proves successful the Park Department has hopes of continuing such a program each year during the observance of Conservation Week, Mott said.

College to Accept 'Clouded' Grants

ATLANTA, Feb. 20. — (AP) — Grants from the Texas Education Association, financed by a capitalist once outspoken against Jews and Negroes, will continue to be accepted by Piedmont College.

Trustees of the small school at Demorest, Ga., met here yesterday and voted in favor of the $500 per month gifts supported by George Armstrong, Texas cattle and oil magnate.

Dr. A. T. Cline of Toccoa, Ga., chairman of the trustees, told newsmen the college is in financial difficulties and the board could see no reason to refuse the grants since no strings are attached to them.

New Coast to Coast Video Pipes Asked for Bay Area

By JAMES ABBE

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the owners and builders of the coast to coast microwave relay system, yesterday asked federal authority to increase those microwave facilities. Provided with more channels, three different TV programs could be sent from New York to the Bay area while two were being sent from here to New York. At present TV networks have to take turns using the single east-west, and west-east channels.

The coast to coast microwave over which we receive and transmit television programs is a big success. A forty million dollar experiment, it has already proved its ability to pay dividends, and is a vitally important part of this Nation's system of communications.

It was first used to relay a television program from coast to coast when the eyes of the world were focused on San Francisco and the Japanese Peace Treaty Conference.

Television networks were understandably cautious in transmitting regular programs cross country because of the cost. Sponsors who underwrite the expense have to be sold.

As things stand now, TV networks have cash customers waiting in line to sponsor more transcontinental programs. It would cost the A. T. & T. very little money and material (in comparison to the original microwave outlay) to put five channels in operation instead of the present two. Furthermore, microwave relays carry ordinary telephone conversations as well as TV programs.

There were 315,000 TV sets in use in this Bay area the first of January.

We turn now from the subject of transcontinental television to programs produced in the Bay area. I hope you parents saw the University of California "Child Psychology" program yesterday morning. Especially do I hope you parents of twins saw the two sets of twins Dr. Harold E. Jones and his wife, Dr. Mary Cover Jones exhibited. How twins happen, and what they provide parents in the way of problems interested this parent, who however confesses that he never found the formula for twins.

Yesterday morning I also caught a new local TV show that was putting on its second program. It is a Monday through Friday production on KGO-TV called "The Crosbys Calling," in which a youngish married couple acted as if they were in their own living room, talking about and doing the things of everyday life in an American home. The family dog was there and acted very much at home.

The absence of either horseplay, or exaggerated conjugal bliss, gave their performance the ring of sincerity. This program by newcomers has the earmarks of success.

There is one point that this columnist has not yet figured out about these morning television programs, which are obviously directed at the housewives. How can the housewife get her work done and still have time to sit down to a TV program?

KNBC is now on a 24-hour schedule, except for Sunday mornings, when time out is taken for servicing transmitters.

At 12:30 a.m. daily Arturo Toscanini and his famous symphony orchestra ushers in a program of classical music that continues until 6 a.m.

RADIO

6:00 p.m. KNBC—SHORT STORY. Dramatization of the Erskine Caldwell short story, "The Windfall."

6:30 p.m. KCBS — BING CROSBY SHOW. The Mills Brothers and Patti Page come visiting on tonight's all-musical half hour.

7:00 p.m. KCBS—FIGHTS. From the Chicago Stadium, CBS brings the Johnny Bratton-Vic Cardell 10-round welterweight bout.

7:00 p.m. KNBC—HALLS OF IVY. A mysterious female voice, broadcasting campus gossip over Ivy College's radio station has members of the Board in a dither and Prexy Hall in hot water.

7:00 p.m. KFRC—FAMILY THEATER. James Cagney and daughter Jean Cagney share leading roles in "The Red Head," story of a heroic nurse who encourages her doctor-brother toward success.

8:30 p.m. KCBS—DR. CHRISTIAN. The Doctor solves the mystery of a murder on the river near the town of River's End in "Afternoon on the River."

9:30 p.m. KNBC—BIG STORY. When a bullet-riddled car is found abandoned Reporter Roy Hanna of the Tulsa Oklahoma Tribune begins a big story of murder.

TELEVISION

7:00 p.m. KPIX — INTERNATIONAL BOXING. Eugene Hairston of New York meets Robert Villemain of Paris, France, in a middleweight match from Detroit.

7:00 p.m. KGO-TV—CELANESE THEATER. Robert E. Sherwood's gripping novel, "The Petrified Forest" stars David Niven and Kim Hunter. Set against the barrenness of Arizona's petrified rock forest, the story isolates the conflicting forces of good and evil.

8:00 p.m. KRON—KATE SMITH EVENING HOUR. Fred Allen shares the guest spotlight with ballet stars André Eglevsky, Maria Tallchief and Melissa Hayden.

8:30 p.m. KPIX—TELEVISION WORKSHOP. Tom Sawyer once again convinces his friends that white-washing a fence is a glamorous and enviable task in "Tom Sawyer, The Glorious Whitewasher," an adventure from the Samuel Clemens classic.

8:30 p.m. KGO-TV—PERSON TO PERSON. Guest: Landscape architect John Ratekin.

9:00 p.m. KRON—KRAFT TV THEATER. "Mrs. O'Brien Entertains" gives a peek into the family life of Mrs. O'Brien and her father Tim who live near New York's waterfront during the year [illegible].

10:00 p.m. KRON—R.C.A. VICTOR SHOW. Guest: Harpo Marx.

10:30 p.m. KPIX—SUSPENSE. French stage and screen actor Claude Dauphin stars in "Betrayal in Vienna."

11:00 p.m. KPIX — CHRONOSCOPE. Governor Earl Warren will tell of his political plans in an interview with William Bradford Huie, editor of the American Mercury and Donald I. Rogers, financial editor of the New York Herald Tribune.

Hear James Abbe tonight at 7 on KLX.

Education Won on Strict Schedule

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 20.—(AP) — Attractive Betty Groebli, wife of a professor and mother of 9-year-old Gary Groebli, worked out an exacting schedule to educate herself. Often she would attend an 8 a.m. class at Santa Barbara College then rush home to get Gary and hubby off to their respective schools.

Now that the pert young brunette has her BA degree, she plans to work out another schedule and try for her master's degree.

Marconi's Daughter Goes for Hot Dogs

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 20.—(AP)— Elettra Marconi, 21-year-old daughter of the late Guglielmo Marconi, enjoyed the best of American food during a recent visit here to witness the dedication of a bust in honor of her famous father.

Finally, Elettra told her escort she would enjoy some "ordinary" food. That's why the attractive girl took a few minutes out from the banquet grind to munch hot-dogs and hamburgers.

Miss Dorothy Burnet, dance analyst at Veloz and Yolanda, says: "I have never met anyone who could not learn to dance the Veloz and Yolanda way.

"My biggest thrill is to see the look of amazement on the faces of those people who claim, 'I have no sense of rhythm,' when they find themselves doing a smooth rhumba or an exciting tango.

"We can teach anyone to be a better-than-average dancer."

—By BOB FRANKLIN—

One of radio's breeziest wits circulates in stormy fashion through radio channels in the Windy City of Chicago and across ABC's network to San Francisco where it rustles the laughter of listeners each weekday morning on KGO.

Strangely enough, this humor stems from a personality who bears the dignified name of Samuel Taggert Cowling, II. Skipping all formality he answers to the name of "Sam" when addressed by his boss Don McNeill and members of THE BREAKFAST CLUB audience.

Sam Cowling

Sam forsook bull fiddling to join the McNeill gang fifteen years ago with a trio known as the Romeros. When World War II left Sam as a soloist he switched to a new role—fiddling with the bull as McNeill's chief heckler. The title fits him well as you can see by dialing KGO-radio any weekday morning between 8 and 9 a.m.

The "Mafia", the international cutthroat syndicate, comes into THE TOP GUY's sights tonight at 8 on KGO-radio but not before its hoods carve out a bloody path. This is more of a clue than Inspector Mark Saber has to follow on MYSTERY THEATRE at 7:30 tonight on KGO. His meager evidence totals three pages torn from a telephone book.

The microwave comes rolling in to KGO-TV from New York tonight at 7 bearing Robert Sherwood's compelling drama, "The Petrified Forest", as the piece de resistance on CELANESE THEATRE. David Niven and Kim Hunter carry leading roles.

Leather flies thick and fast tonight at 9:30 on channel 7 when Lucky Strike's MEET THE CHAMP makes its first Pacific Coast visit telecasting two bouts from SF's Presidio. The initial four-rounder pits a Camp Le Jeune Marine against a GI from Camp Stoneman in a welterweight scrap. Second bout features heavyweights Lucius Tate from the Presidio and 230-pound Ed Cholak from Treasure Island Naval Base. Tate grabbed honors in last year's local Golden Gloves. The man behind the mike on tonight's MEET THE CHAMP is also the man behind the idea for the show. Wally Butterworth, best remembered by radio fans for his handling of "Vox Pop" for eight years, originated the show and sits ringside each week to bring you a full account of the activities.
