

Each of these episodes of Jeff Regan, Investigator is identical to the version found in the primary set of episodes for this Maintained Set. These unedited versions include the approximately one minute of music that was added at the end of each episode by the AFRS to extend the recording length. The music is the same for each episode and does not match the theme music of the program. It is believed these recordings date from the 1970s. They are included for those who want the original AFRS version as it aired.