

1947-1948 Joan Davis Time

10/11/1947	First show of season; Danny Thomas as a dress designer	Globe-Gazette (Mason City, IA)
10/18/1947	Danny Thomas, who scored as an eccentric dress designer on the premiere broadcast, will be back as Joanie's guest on her 2nd show. Miss Davis will offer a new page from her laugh-packed diary, and with Danny's help will figure out a solution to a typical feminine problem of the day.	Globe-Gazette (Mason City, IA)
10/25/1947	Miss Davis thumbs through the pages of her diary and comes up with several hilarious incidents. Music on the show is provided by an a cappella choir.	Globe-Gazette (Mason City, IA)
11/1/1947	Sweeney and March guests
11/8/1947	Dinah Shore will help Joan Davis in her quest for a career, when she visits Joan Davis Time. Dinah will team with radio's Queen of Comedy for laughs, and will offer a song or two, accompanied by the a cappella choir	Globe-Gazette (Mason City, IA)
11/15/1947	Garry Moore, the young man whose hairdo resembles a well-preserved doormat, drops in to exchange pleasantries with radio's Queen of Comedy. Joanie gets herself wound up in a series of mishaps, and calls upon Garry to help her out of trouble; Joan Davis occupies this evening's half hour with quiz program chatter, Garry Moore guests.	Globe-Gazette (Mason City, IA); Valley Times (North Hollywood, CA)
11/22/1947	Those 2 irrepressible comedians Bob Sweeney and Hal March return for a 2nd laugh-filled visit with radio's Queen of Comedy, on "Joan Davis Time." Having decided to become a career girl, Miss Davis seeks new fields to conquer.	Globe-Gazette (Mason City, IA)
11/29/1947	Danny Kaye, comedian, with a tongue of his own, ventures into Joanie's tea room for a dish of persiflage, as guest on the show. The inimitable Mr. Kaye finds himself hotly pursued by the ever-hopeful Miss Davis, to the temporary relief and relaxation of tearoom manager, Lionel Stander.	Globe-Gazette (Mason City, IA)
12/6/1947	Garry Moores returns to the Joan Davis Show	Los Angeles Evening Citizen News (Hollywood)
12/13/1947	Rudy Vallee, hardy perennial of the air waves, joins comedy forces with Miss Davis and Lionel Stander. Vallee finds himself making valiant efforts to hold the irrepressibly affectionate Joanie at arm's length on the theory that distance lends enchantment.	Globe-Gazette (Mason City, IA)
12/20/1947	Hal March intervenes with Santa to help his fellow comedian Bob Sweeney to get the Christmas present he covets most, to wit: the entrancing Joan Davis on whose program the two are guests. This is their 3rd visit of the season.	Globe-Gazette (Mason City, IA)
12/27/1947	Comedian Danny Thomas offers a preview of his comedy personality with a visit to Joan Davis on her program.	Valley Times (North Hollywood, CA)
1/3/1948	Bill Goodwin, star of his own show over CBS, drops in as guest comic on Joan's program. Assisting this pair in stirring up laughs will be Lionel Stander, Joan's gruff-voiced man.	Globe-Gazette (Mason City, IA)
1/10/1948	Charlie Cantor, also known as Clifton Finnegan, wends his slow-witted way through a half-hour of fun when he guest stars on the show. Cantor, whose fogged brain blends with his foghorn voice, will be joined by Lionel Stander, Miss Davis' sandpaper-throated assistant in swapping banter with radio's Queen of Comedy.	Globe-Gazette (Mason City, IA)

1947-1948 Joan Davis Time

1/17/1948	Chico, piano-playing member of the Marx Brothers team, brings his familiar characterization as Signor Ravelli to "Joan Davis Time." He joins radio's Queen of Comedy and her gravel-voiced aide, Lionel Stander, I half an hour of repartee.	Globe-Gazette (Mason City, IA)
1/24/1948	Sam Spade (Howard Duff) is the guest on the Joan Davis program.	Dayton Daily News (Dayton, OH)
1/31/1948	Billy deWolfe, who as the saying goes has "just returned from a successful personal appearance tour," guests with Joan Davis	Valley Times (North Hollywood, CA)
2/7/1948	Joan Davis is really "sent" when Bob Crosby drops in at the tearoom and obliges with a song.	Valley Times (North Hollywood, CA)
2/14/1948	Bristle-topped Garry Moore has a brush with cupid during a valentine visit with the Queen of Comedy	The Miami News
2/21/1948	Bob Sweeney and Hal March, whose earlier visits this season have led to a comic romance between Bob and his hostess, radio's Queen of Comedy, turn up again on the program.	Globe-Gazette (Mason City, IA)
2/28/1948	Joan Davis plays hostess to Kenny Baker, is smitten by the singer's charms.	Valley Times (North Hollywood, CA)
3/6/1948	"Sam Spade," (Howard Duff) drops in again at the tearoom to see Joan Davis.	Valley Times (North Hollywood, CA)
3/13/1948	The duo of Bob Sweeney and Hal March with Joan Davis	Los Angeles Evening Citizen News (Hollywood)
3/20/1948	Andy Russell guest
3/27/1948	Xavier Cugat lends a South American air to Joan Davis' tearoom	Los Angeles Evening Citizen News (Hollywood)
4/3/1948	John Payne guest	St. Louis Post-Dispatch
4/10/1948	It's getting to be a habit with those mirth merchants, Bob Sweeney and Hal March, who turn up for another visit with Joan Davis.	Globe-Gazette (Mason City, IA)
4/17/1948	Rudy Vallee, who introduced Joan Davis to radio, pays his second visit of the season to "Joan Davis Time"	Dayton Daily News (Dayton, OH)
4/24/1948	Harry Von Zell, her announcer at one time, Joan Davis' guest	Los Angeles Evening Citizen News (Hollywood)
5/1/1948	Peter Lind Hayes guest	The Akron Beacon Journal (Akron, OH)
5/8/1948
5/15/1948	Alan Young guest	The Brooklyn Daily Eagle
5/22/1948	Comic on Joan's show is Lionel Stander, whose voice; Baritone Andy Russell, who was associated with Joan Davis in a series of programs on the air many months ago, drops in to serenade the Queen of Comedy. sounds like a buzz saw going through a pine knot with a nail in it.	The Miami News; The Atlanta Constitution
5/29/1948	Screen star Constance Bennett gives glamor tips to Joan Davis	Dayton Daily News (Dayton, OH)
6/5/1948	Bob Crosby guest
6/12/1948	Pat O'Brien guest	Daily News (NY)
6/19/1948	Frances Langford and Jon Hall guests	The Indianapolis News
6/26/1948	Joan Davis spreads the welcome mat for film comedienne Marjorie Mai tonight and the pair will combine talents for a half hour of fun.	The Indianapolis Star
7/3/1948	Andy Russell guest (Morey Amsterdam takes over for summer)	The Bakersfield Californian