

DMCA Policy

The Old Time Radio Researchers organization ("OTRR") respects the intellectual property rights of others and expects its members to do the same. In accordance with the Digital Millennium Copyright Act of 1998, the text of which may be found on the U.S. Copyright Office website at <http://www.copyright.gov/legislation/dmca.pdf>, OTRR will respond expeditiously to claims of copyright infringement committed by group members in preparing a series for official release by the group that are reported to the Old Time Radio Designated Copyright Agent identified in the sample notice below.

OTRR reserves the right to "Fair Use" copyrighted materials, as defined by the DMCA in any of its archival certified series, and will give credit, where known, to the copyright holder.

Any claims of copyright infringement are to be made directly to the Old Time Radio Researchers organization and not to a third party. Such claims will be ignored by the Old Time Radio Researchers organization.

The copyright holder is required to identify themselves by the corporate name and address, and if a complaint is made by someone not the copyright holder, they are required to indicate the relationship, if any, to the copyright holder the complainant has.

Upon receipt of Notice as described below, the Old Time Radio Researchers will take whatever action, in its sole discretion, it deems appropriate, including removal of the challenged use of materials from any official certified archival set, provided such claims are valid.
