

Bill Woodson

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William T. Woodson (born July 16, 1917) is a retired American voice actor, best known for his narration of the radio series This is Your FBI and the animated series Super Friends and all its spin-offs.

Radio career

Woodson served as the narrator for the crime drama series This is Your FBI from 1948-53 on ABC radio.^[3]

He also voiced multiple characters on episodes of several other radio programs such as Suspense, Inheritance and Family Theater.

Other acting work

In 1966, he played the Secretary of War in 3 episodes of F-Troop.

He played the reporter in Stan Freberg's parody advertisement of Jacobsen Mowers, which were in actuality sheep grazing. In the satirical ad, he announced: "Jacobsen Mowers. Faster...than sheep!".

Bill Woodson is also the narrator of NFL Films' official films of Super Bowl II and he also narrated the 1967 NFL Championship Game, better known as the "Ice Bowl". The longtime voice of NFL Films, John Facenda, had been unavailable.

From 2004-2010, Woodson, a California resident, lent his austere deep voice to a series of humorous commercials promoting the Minnesota Twins. The ads had titles such as "The Minnesota Twins - Get to Know 'Em", "Every Fan Counts", and "This is Twins Territory". His voice can also be heard narrating in many Disney read-alongs.

For The Old Time Radio Researchers, I'm _____, your announcer. Now, sit back, and enjoy 'This is your FBI'!